From the desk of the President:

Centreville Bank's tradition of operating with a community first approach has been our philosophy since our founding in 1828. Today more than ever, we remain committed to helping strengthen the lives of people in Rhode Island and Connecticut. We embrace this responsibility by supporting organizations that are making a positive impact through innovative and collaborative programs and services.

In 2022, the focus of Centreville Bank and the Centreville Bank Charitable Foundation continued to be centered around our three pillars:

Education Success - investing in programs that ensure that at every age, children in our communities are ready to learn, are engaged learners, and supported by their family, schools and community.

Economic Security - investing in programs that work to increase the stability for low-income individuals and families through wrap-around programs.

Capacity Building - supporting community-based organizations with funding to help improve organizational effectiveness.

I am proud to report that for a second consecutive year, we were able to award $1.3 million in grants and community support to 77 organizations working to make a positive impact in the communities we serve.

As we head into 2023 and the year of Centreville Bank's 195th anniversary, I am excited about what's to come and I know we will continue to be a force for positive change in our local communities.

Sincerely,

Harold M. Horvat
President, CEO and Chairman of the Board

EDUCATION SUCCESS SPOTLIGHT:

Read to Grow (RTG) Bookmobile

During a listening session with Centreville Bank, a bank member overheard RTG Development Associate Paula Grimm mention the Bookmobile wish. As a result, Centreville Bank's Charitable Foundation offered to help, providing RTG with a grant for the new vehicle.

From Branford, CT Read to Grow distributes approximately 130,000 free books annually, including numerous publications in a variety of languages other than English.

Last September, wrapped in a colorfully artistic exterior display of RTG books and titles, the Bookmobile made its inaugural visit to a Norwich Elementary School. Since then, it has visited several schools and community organizations, including Community Dining Room in Branford.

ROBERT O. PARE SCHOLARSHIP

Each year, the Robert O. Pare Scholarship is offered through the Centreville Bank Charitable Foundation in honor of Mr. Pare's 55 years of support to Centreville Bank. The $5,000 award is presented to two local high school students who are dedicated to making a difference through community service.

2022 Funding Report

ECONOMIC SECURITY SPOTLIGHT: Rhode Island Builders Association

We launched a new partnership with the RI Builders Association in their Residential Construction Workforce Partnership Program. The year-long partnership is focused on facilitating financial literacy sessions for adults in the training program with a focus on credit building, home-ownership and business banking. Sessions are facilitated by Centreville Bank staff who are content experts in their fields.

to the person/family that opened your heart,

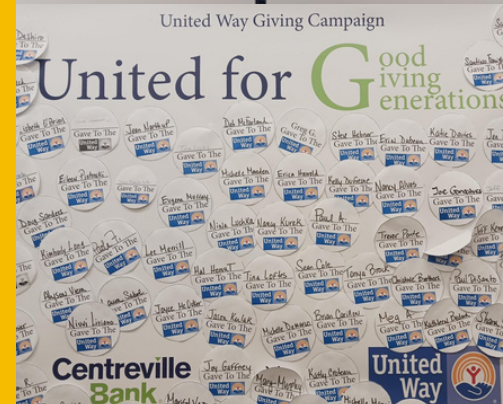

I Want to thank you for opening your heart this Christmas and helping my kids have a few gifts under the tree. When I was told that I was accepted I nearly cried. You're a stranger to my kids and I but you still decided to help. I am so grateful, happy, and appreciative. Thank you so much I couldn't thank you enough. Have a Merry Christmas and Happy Holidays God Bless you and your family

Thank you for your support.

2022 Highlight Reel

ON THE ROAD TO 200...

Centreville Bank Celebrates 195 Years

Centreville Bank was founded in 1828 by local business and civic leaders, textile manufacturer John Greene and surgeon Sylvester Knight. Located in West Warwick, the bank was at the center of Rhode Island's burgeoning and bustling textile industry and commerce hub.

From those first days and continuing through today, Centreville has been committed to serving, and being a part of, our local communities. Our ever-evolving personal and commercial banking products and services, state-of-the-art technology and security, online and mobile banking, ATMs and Interactive Teller Machines (ITMs) all offer a modern and reliable banking experience.

Our financial education programs, community investment and volunteerism, and our dedicated team go the extra mile to meet the diverse needs of our customers and help them achieve their goals.

As we honor our history over the past 195 years, we thank our customers and communities for their support and we look forward to many more years together.
